

Discerning Our Gifts

We are called to be disciples of Christ. While each of us will follow Jesus differently, one thing is certain: each of us is asked to offer the gifts we have to serve a world in need.

As you think about your unique gifts and how you might share them, use these questions to help discover what you are being called to do at this time in your life.

1. What are your strengths? Your talents?
2. What unique gifts do you think the Spirit has given you?
3. What gives you joy and energizes you?
4. If you could serve God in any way, what would it be?
5. Which of your gifts do you think are most needed in our parish, our community or the world right now?
6. What are your life circumstances right now? Are there places where you can share your gifts at this time in your life?
